

Eminent Scholars Lecture Series

Successful Achievements of Societal Importance in Ocean Sciences

Location: Karen A. Steidinger Auditorium
FWC Fish and Wildlife Research Institute
100 Eighth Ave. S.E., St. Petersburg, FL

Thursday - April 5, 2018

Time	Speaker	Title
1:30PM	 Dan Rudnick, PhD Scripps Institution of Oceanography	Observing the Regional Effects of Climate Variability with the California Underwater Glider Network
3:15PM	 Ray Hilborn, PhD University of Washington	Sustaining Food from the Seas

Friday - April 6, 2018

1:30PM	 Maeve Lohan, PhD University of Southampton, UK	Zinc and Iron Cycling in Sub-Tropical Atlantic Ocean: Impacts on Biological Processes
3:15PM	 Kim Cobb, PhD Georgia Institute of Technology	Corals and Climate Change - Life and Death on a Remote Pacific Reef

Title: Preparing for Our New Climate: Resist, Mitigate, Adapt
Where: Dali Museum, 1 Dali Boulevard, St. Petersburg, FL 33701
Moderator: Rob Lorei, New Director WMNF 88.5 Community Radio
Featuring: Kim Cobb, PhD, Georgia Institute of Technology
Sharon Wright, Sustainability and Resiliency Director, City of St. Petersburg
When: Thursday, April 5, 2018
Time: Reception at 6:00 PM, Conversation at 6:30 PM
RSVP: Linda Kelbaugh by Monday, April 2, lkelbaugh@usf.edu or 727-553-1634

PRESENTED BY:

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA
COLLEGE OF MARINE SCIENCE

50 YEARS
Advancing Ocean Science
1967-2017

SPONSORED BY:

David Fanciullacci
Raymond James Financial

