
References:

A Bouillabaisse of Fish Facts. This site is FUN, FUN, FUN!
<http://www.wh.who.edu/faq/index.html>

Interested in aquatic or marine fish? Simply go to your search engine and type in the words 'aquatic fish', or 'marine fish'. This will lead you to many different links and resources for a lot of information. If you know the name of a fish that you would like to know more about, merely type in the name of the fish you want to know more about, and the search engine will lead you in the right direction.

Dictionary of Ichthyological terms on the web:
<http://www.biology.ualberta.ca/jackson.hp/iwr/reference/dictionary/index.html>

Bond, C.E. 1979. Biology of Fishes. Saunders College Publishing, Philadelphia. 513pp.

Encarta 98 Encyclopedia. Microsoft 1998 Edition

Greely, T., ed. 1998. Field Guide for the Oceanography Camp, University of South Florida, St. Petersburg, FL 200pp.

Robins, C.R., Ray, G.C., and Douglas J. 1986. Peterson Field Guide to Atlantic Coast Fishes. Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston. 354pp.

Chemistry Websites

www.dac.neu.edu/biology/d.scheirer/diffusion.html

For more related information:

<http://poseidon.jpl.nasa.gov>

<http://topex-www.jpl.nasa.gov>

How do we study fish?

<http://octopus.gma.org/onlocation/mocness.html>

For more information:

Setting up freshwater tank: <http://www2.avicom.net/weif/firsttank.html>

Freshwater tropical fish: <http://members.xoom.com/Aquarist/>

Aquarium facts: <http://faq.thekrib.com/>

Exotic tropical fish: http://www.fish.bit.com.au/site_index.asp

National Marine Fisheries Service: <http://www.nmfs.gov/>

Ichthyology (the study of fish) Web site directory:
<http://www.biology.ualberta.ca/jackson.hp/iwr/iwr.html>

Net information: <http://rho.pmel.noaa.gov/card/long/monster.html>

Conservation: Tag and Release

<http://www2.jgfa.or.jp/1purpose.htm>

<http://members.aol.com/marlinnut/tnr.html>

holoholo.org/billfish/96hibt/96bfnews/bf0809_2.html

www.fisheries.org/annual98/program/wed6.htm

swfsc.ucsd.edu/billfish/bnl96/bnl96.html

www.tunaresearch.org/marlin.html